BOOKS DONATED TO LIBRARY

Most books in the library at Wrangell Institute are purchased from school funds. But ocasionally books are donated by individuals or organizations interested in the Wrangell students and the school program.

While on a recent student movement in Juneau, a book titled Four Days, complied by United Press International and American Heritage Magazine, was given to the librarian for the Wrangell Institute library. The donor, Mrs. Blanche Bietz, an employee of the Totem Gift Shop, is well known to Wrangell students passing through Juneau.

The book Four Days is an account of the assassination of the late President Kennedy.

Carol Gurtler, a student from Room F at Wrangell donated a book titled The Blue Ghost Mystery, by John Blaine.

To these people the students at Wrangell extend their appreciation.

GROUP A HAPPY

The smiling group on the cover of the EAGLE is a happy Group A. Pupils in this group are from the villages of King Island, Sheldon Point, Kotlik, Ugashik and Sleetmute.

They are all trying to say hello to their parents, relatives, and friends at home in the villages.

VISITORS COME TO WRANGELL

Miss Guinn from Mt. Edgecumbe was a visitor at Wrangell for a few days during the month of October. Miss Guinn is a social worker.

Mr. Burr, social worker from Ketchikan, was also a visitor during the month of October.

HALLOWEEN COMING

Coming in this month of October is Halloween. Some may like Halloween back home more than here at Wrangell or they may like it better here. Back home people may go from house to house. Some of them may miss going trick or treating.

But here students may see ghosts and witches. They may even see black cats as they walk around the campus grounds. Here is hoping everyone likes Halloween this year, and all have fun.

MUCH MONEY CHECKED OUT

During the past week students have checked out a great amount of money. Wrangell Institute sweatshirts and tapestries were sold to the students. The students also paid for their class pictures and their yearbooks. And if they wished they checked out money for the school store stamps, or town shopping trips. Later on in year we will be getting our class pictures and annuals.

COUNCIL CANDIDATES CAMPAIGNING

Hope for the future. Hope particularly for good government. With twenty-four candidates plastering posters in every available spot, good government is for certain. It is impossible for poor student government to come out of all the bright colors shown on the posters.

The vote is what will count though. Students will make sure that there is good bovernmently the way they cast their vote. Take care and cast votes in the right direction.

CLUB SPIRIT GOOD

Students at Wrangell Institute have been joining quite a few clubs. Clubs like the Audio-Visual Club, The Stamp Club and the Choral Club have been swamped with applications for membership.

It is up to each one to come to the club meetings, since it was interesting enough to join. If some have joined a club, show respect for it by attending regularly. In that way there will be better groups.

SHOW CONSIDERATION

It looks like some of the older student would be more considerate of the younger ones if and when there are fire drills, or surely if there is ever a fire when the gym is being used for dances or movies.

gym is being used for dances or movies.

It would be more humane and courteous if the older students gave some assistance to the younger ones. It is understood that the routine for passing must not be done away with, but there is still have some consideration that can be shown.

A NIGHT AT JUNEAU

When Larry Evanoff and I arrived at the Juneau airport teachers from Wrangell Institute met us. Their names were Mr. and Mrs. Lemley.

Not knowing what to do or where to go, it was necessary to follow the teachers. The first thing that they did was to check us in at the hotel. After getting the suitcases in and washing up, Mr. Lemley drove to Percy's Cafe where supper was served.

Around 9:00 p.m. it was time to return to the hotel. Before going to bed, T-V was enjoyed for a while in the hotel lobby. Sleeping was almost impossible due to the excitement.

It was very helpful that the teachers were there to meet the plane, otherwise things would have been inconvenient.

STORY OF HYDABURG

It was not very long ago the Haida Chief had a son and he began to grow old enough to understand what his father told him. He told him not to bother the three boxes in the corner, because he had the sun, moon and stars in the boxes. One day his son wouldn't quit crying because he wanted to play with the sun. chief let his son play with it. Before he took it out he shut everything tight so that a crow wouldn't be able to come in to the house. Every day the chief let his son play with the sun. One day his son got tired of playing with the sun and he opened the door and a crow flew in and got into the moon, sun and stars. And to this day we still have sun, moon and stars. So we should be thankful for the crow.

... Kathryn Morrison

This is the first year for a number of students at Wrangell. Most students like it here. It is more fun here than back home. All students are supposed to stay on the campus, not out away from the campus.

Students do go hiking and to town. The trees here are different. It rains more here than in the northern part of Alaska.

There is a dining hall here. There are ten rooms at school from A through J. Thirty students are in Room E. The teacher in Room E is Mrs. Gillespie.

A store is here too. The store sells all kinds of candy bars. There is also plenty of popcorn and raisins. We have movies every Sunday and Friday, and dances on Saturday.

... Henry Homer

OVER NIGHTING AT THE WESTWARD

When the students got to the Western Hotel, Mrs. Winningham met them and showed them to the elavator. There were pretty rooms and halls. The rooms had two beds, a big window about two or three times bigger than we have with pretty curtains. There was a television, two lamps, a dresser with a big mirror and a bathroom.

When they were going to watch television, Mrs. Winningham turned it on, but it was too late so she told them they could listen to music instead. They went to bed around eleven thirty and got up around five o' clock. A few of them were so sleepy they had to sleep on the plane.

Mrs. Winningham and the girls had a lot of fun riding back and forth on the elevator that night. They went from the first floor to the top, then to the third floor. That was the most fun they had in the Western Hotel.

TRIP TO WRANGELL

Coming to Wrangell was very interesting. The plane left Ruby, September 2nd at 10:00 a.m., arriving in Galena at 10: 30 a.m., Until 12:20 p.m., the time was spent in Galena, After leaving Galena, the flight arrived in Fairbanks at 2:20 a.m.

From the airport they took the students to the Hospitality House. After about three hours sleep, everyone had breakfast and went to the airport.
plane took off about 7:00 a.m.

Flying over White Horse, old steamboats were seen. These boats use to go up and down the river.

Having an hour to spend in White Horse, some students bought candy and comic books. And, of course, some bought post cards.

From White Horse the next stop was Jumeau. From Juneau to Wrangell glaciers were seen. There was also snow on the mountains.

On arriving in Wrangell, the school bus was waiting to take everyone to Wrangell Institute.

Pictures of the students were taken. Everyone was tired of riding in the airplane. At any rate there are nine months to go here.

STUDENTS SEE MUSK OXEN

some strange animals at Bethel. They were in the big airplane. When they were out of the airplane, one of the men said that they were musk oxen.

They were shaggy, had big eyes, and they were kind of scary looking. They smalled terrible. They were in a cage, and were about 3 or 4 feet tall and not full grown.

Many years ago there were musk oxen in much of North America, but they died out.

The ones seen at Bethel were shipped o other parts of Alaska to start herds.

PRIBILOF SEALSKINS ARRIVE IN SEATTLE

The ship Pribilef went to Seattle from the stormy northern sea. It carried seal skins worth more than a milloin dollars from the Pribilof Talands. At Ballingham Washington 300 tons of frezen sealburgers were unloaded which were ordered by an Oregon firm for use as mink feed. Rain began to make the seal meat soggy.

The profits from the seal skins are divided, 70 percent going to United States and 15 percent to Canada and 15 percent to Japan.

FLOODS AT HOME

In Sheldon Point there were two weeks of floods. People had to move the barrels and the dogs to the poles. People who had camps across the river said they had to stay in boats. After students went to Wrangell they had another flood. The saltry flooded away and many barrels. They had to work very hard after the water went down.

SHOPPING IN TOWN

About two weeks ago some of the students went to town shopping. Most of the students went for clothing. Mr. Ryll bought them to town with a small bus, He also showed some of the newer students where to buy the best clothing.

After they bought their clothing he let them walk around for awhile. It was lots of fun to be in town.

... Carl Okbaok

About two weeks ago, students started town shopping. There were six girls and six boys. When they went to town, the students went from store to store to buy the things they needed. It was lots of fun looking at the pretty things they had in the stores. The students got to buy some candy too.

STUDENTS ATTEND MOVIE

Last Saturday 100 students from the boys and girls dorms, went to the movie in town. The movie was to be at 1:00 p.m., so the girls who were going to the movie, had to eat first.

While the boys were eating, the bus took all the girls to town then went back for the boys. The movie was about a dolphin and it lasted for about two hours.

After the movie the girls went on the first bus to the Institute then it went back for the boys. It sure was an exciting trip.

GROUP "H"

Group WHH is an ungraded group at Wrangell Institute. This ungraded program is for students who are not quite ready for high school work; so Wrangell Institute has formed this type of program for the students.

This ungraded program is helping many students, because they have the chance to gain knowledge of the work they have missade This program is a real help.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Well, students are back at school, They have to put their brains back to work again. They will study all winter. Everybody is happy that they are back in school.

They have math, science, social studies, spelling, reading and language to keep them busy this winter.

Everyone is waiting for spring to come and school is out. If they go home they will have to say "I wonder when we'll go back to school again."

ROLLER SKATING IS FUN

Roller skating is my favorite sport. I love to roller skate. I thought I would never learn but now that I know how I think it is easy. I was teaching my brother, at home, how to roller skate. He wanted to learn so bad. I had a lot of fun teaching him. And I think he will have a lot of fun roller skating once he learns.

I went roller skating here last Saturday and I sure had lots of fun. I think You'll like roller skating once in a while too.

NATIONAL SCHOOL LUNCH WEEK

This occasion at Wrangell Institute was commendable. In the homemaking classes students assisted with the planning of menus. The staff members, through invitation, had lunch with the students. Many words of praise go to the students for the many courtesies extended.

WE SAW A BLACK BEAR

Thursday after supper, some students saw a black bear near the Health Center. When it was first seen, it was near the trash can. Then all the little girls went to see the bear. They scared the bear. It went away.

All the girls went to play on the swing, merry-go-round and slide.

The second time we saw the black bear, it was in the road. This time we saw a cub with the big black bear. The little girls told Mr. Heflebower, He came to see it. The cub went another way and the big bear went down the road. We did not see it anymore.

GROUP C

Room C had an assembly program. Frank Jones was the announcer.

Room C had a rhythm band. Darwin Nelson was the conductor.

Everyone had fun getting ready for the program.

....Anna Williams

There are 19 students in Room C, eight boys and eleven girls. Most of us wish we had two more boys to make the number nearly even. Even members make it easy when we plan gym games.

....Russell Akers

In Room C good sitizenship is being stressed. Students are helping each other to remember all the things listed that would make good citizens. Everyone tries to practice this outside of school too.

THE WITCH FAMILY, by Eleanor Estes (Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc.): "Go live on the glass hill forever, and never come back!" Thus did Amy and Clarissa, who loved to draw pictures of witches, banish the Wicked Old Witch. Before long there was Little Witch Girl and then Weeny Witch, the baby, on glass hill as well. Perhaps Old Witch did try to be good, but she never succeeded. And in no time at all, Amy and Clarissa were involved—sometimes dangerously—in her schemes and "hurly-burlies."

Eleanor Estes who won the Newbery Medal for Ginger Pye and whose books about Moffats created a story that is exciting, humorous, wholly original, and marvelously unpredictable.

most overlooked.

FRESHMEN NEWS-

RADIOS PLACED IN DORMS

It was a nice surprise to return to Wrangell Institute and find that radios had been placed in each dormitory. It will be a pleasure to listen to music and the newsthis year.

Every morning about six o'clock the radio is turned on until about 7:00 or 7:30. Sometimes it is turned on before or after supper. It is hoped that this plan can continue throughout the school year.

Robert Adams

School started here at Wrangell Institute on September 9, 1964. All the students that had arrived took achievement tests. After two days, the tests were completed and corrected by the teachers. The students were placed in rooms where they were assigned.

Ninety three freshman students were put in Mooms G.I. and J. The other students were put in other rooms.

The freshman are studying several subjects at high school level and are working hard hoping to go into the tenth grade at Mt. Edgecumbe or elswhere.

Last week Room C performed an assembly program. It's the first program of this year. Each room will give a different assembly each month.

Other various activities have taken place, such as dances, shopping trips, and arts and crafts since school started.

The students look forward to the same sort of activities and also other kinds, but they are looking forward mostly for an education.

STUDENTS SEE MOVIE IN TOWN

Approximately one hundred boys and girls from Wrangell Institute enjoyed a movie in town on Saturday aftermon. It was about a sea animal named "Flipper" which was trained by a boy. The matter lasted about three hours.

Candy, popcorn, ice cream, and other sweets were sold at the movie and the the group enjoyed buying these good things to eat.

Students at Wrangell Institute are looking forward to another movie in town real soon.

James Evans

FRESHMAN CLASSES

There are 93 students in the freekman classes here at Wrangell Emstitute. They are divided into three groups caccording to the scores on the tests that were given the first part of the year.

Room J, has thirty students and the home room teacher is Mr. Dow. Room I, thirty one students. Their home room teacher is Mr. Cuptis. Mrs. Dow is the homeroom theaher for Room G. There are thirty-two students in this room.

All of the students are taking four main subjects: Math, science, world geography, and English. The by-subjects are physical education, library, music appreciation, and guidance. It is hoped that all students are doing well in all subjects. Remember report cards will be coming out soon.

WRANGELL A FINE SCHOOL

Wrangell Institute locks like it is going to be a fine school to go to now that the boys and girls are getting use to it little by little. At first the students didn't like it because they didn't know the place or the other boys and girls.

The school seems to be ckay. The schedules are perfectly planned and teachers are here to help the student every now and then, but they do that for the good of ht students so that better study habits and responsibility can be developed. It also gives the student an idea of what life is like outside of their home or community. They also learn how it is to live with lots of people.

John Dezelsoff

STAYING AT THE Y.M.C.A.

On our trip to Wrangell Institute we stopped at Anchorage to spend a night waiting for a plane to take us to Juneau. We all spent money on pop, gum, and candy while we were staying at the Y.M.C.A., a place you might call "paradise."

During the evening we all stayed awake looking out the window watching cars pass by the building. The next morning we had breakfast and went on a tour of downtown Anchorage. Part of the day we strolled along the streets looking into huge drug store and hardware store windows.

Although the Y.M.C.A. is what you might call paradise we think HOME is what is known as REAL PARADISE.

MAKING FRIENDS

Since coming to Wrangell I have made many friends from different parts of A-laska. Last year when I first arrived I thought I wouldn't have a lot of friends, but I did. As the months passed by, I made more and more friends. I soon forgot my homesickness. By the end of the year I knew almost every student.

This year I have also made many new friends from other parts of Alaska. Making friends with others is fun. If we make friends we will enjoy doing activities together and have a happier school year.Wassilie Mute

MY THOUGHTS OF WRANGELL INSTITUTE

When I first landed at Wrangell Institute I was very homesick. I knew that it would be hard to get use to Wrangell, but after I learned the rules, and tried to follow them, it wasnIt so hard. I had to get over the habit of having things around that I was use to having. The food is another thing that I've had to get use to. The fun is "all fun," especially the movies.

I know that if I'm going to get use to Wrangell Institute and enjoy my year here I will need to try hard and be happy myself and try to make other people happy as well.

SCIENCE CLASSES ACTIVE WITH MACHINES

The science classes are studying about different kinds of machines. Enife, fork, spoon, scissors, and many other countless things are called simple machines.

Another kind of machine is the pulley. There are two types of pulleys. One is called a fixed pulley because it is fastened or fixed. The other is the movable pulley because it move along the rope.

Seience classes will be learning about many different kinds of interesting things throughout the school year.

NEW CHURCH BEING BUILT

Several students attended church in town last Sunday. After church the preacher, Mr. Baldwin, drove them past the site where the new church is being built. A few of the Wangell Institute boys have been helping with the construction. It is expected that the church will be completed in a few weeks and services will be held there and not in the Civic Center.

The church site is located on the road from Wrangell Institute to town.

BETAILS IN KITCHEN

The dining hall is a very popular place at Wrangell Institute. The matrons put up a menu each week for the students to read and know what they are going to eat each day.

The cooks prepare the meals in the kitchen which is right next to the dining room. When it is all ready the kitchen and serving boys are called over to do their details. The serving boys serve food and the kitchen boys eat first. Then they wash the trays and tell the kitchen matron they are ready for other students to get in line and get their trays.

After everyone has been served the kitchen boys clean up and go back to the dorm.

OFFICE NOTES

Ruth Ferguson & Mark Jack

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE Mr. Watkins

It is our pleasure to welcome all students to Wrangell Institute. School started September 8th with 257 girls and boys from many villages throughout Alaska. We think we have the finest group of students we could find anywhere.

Almost all the students experience homesickness the first few weeks of school. This is the time when letters from home are very important. The children worry about their parents and their brothers and sisters. They need to have letters assuring them that the family is well and encouraging them to do their best in school.

Parents make a sacrifice when they allow their children to go away from home to attend school. The children in turn must give up being with their families while they are in school. It is important for both the parents and the students to plan for the years ahead. It is important that we employees in the boarding schools work and plan with parents and students to see that the students receive every opportunity as an adult citizen.

PRINCIPAL'S OFFICE......Mr. Sorenson

SEPTEMBER ACCOMPLISHMENTS

The first month of school at Wrangell Institute has provided many new experiences for the student body.

During the first week of school Achievement Tests were given to all students. After two busy days of testing, students were regrouped and formal classes were started.

Many of the students have found that school life at Wrangell Institute can be fun but it is necessary for each student to keep busy doing their classroom work and taking advantage of study halls to complete all of their school assignments.

Several classes have gone on field trips gathering specimens for study in their science classes. One class took a field trip to view and draw sketches of the beautiful flowers and shrubs growing at Moore's store.

The students in Classroom C presented an assembly program to the student body on September 23rd. The theme of their program was "Sounds of Autumn."

There were many sunny days during the month of September. The physical education classes were able to meet outside and play Eskimo baseball, kick ball and touch football. All of the students seemed to be having fun learning new games and participating as team members. The girls looked very nice in their new play suits.

This year we plan to have a school chorus. So for 145 students have indicated an interest in singing with this group and we hope to hear more from our chorus after they have had some time to practice and learn some new songs.

This is campaign week at Wrangell Institute. Primary elections for members of the Student Council have been completed. On October 9th candidates for Student Council offices will present campaign speeches to the student body and on October 12th the student body will vote for their favorite canidates to carry out the business of student government.

Who will be elected to represent the student body this year? See list of canidates on last page of the paper.
